

Christmas Poem

It is Christmas soon; time to buy a tree,
Let's hang up some tinsel and then go out to ski.
All the family is coming to visit us here,
Let's hope that Santa comes along on his deer.
We have wood in the fire to keep us warm,
In case the weather forecast predicts a storm.
We have made the traditional eggnog,
For all those who arrive after driving in the fog.
My aunt is knitting us all Christmas sweaters,
On each one she is knitting our letters.
There are lots of presents to place under the tree,
Most of them have red ribbons except for three.
My mum is making gingerbread men,
She bakes them every year and she is baking them again.
My dad is in the kitchen making some hot cider,
Oh My Gosh! He has just seen a big hairy spider.
My sled is all ready to hit the snow,
I have decorated it with a big shiny bow.
It's time to go outside and build a snowman,
Maybe we'll give it a hat made from an old tin can.
So wishing you all a Christmas that is merry,
and on top of the plum pudding let's add a cherry.

Christmas Poem

Questions:

1. Why is there wood in the fire?

2. Who will receive eggnog?

3. What is my aunt knitting?

4. How many gifts don't have red ribbons?

5. Where will the presents be placed?

6. When does mum make gingerbread men?

7. How have I decorated my sled?

8. What shall we give the snowman?

9. Where will we put the cherry?

10. What rhymes with bow?

