On the farm

Emily and her friends are on the farm. They want to see the animals and help Mr. Bull, the farmer, with the goats, horses, hens, geese, sheep, cows and pigs.

Joshua finds a goose wandering around by itself and takes it back to the other geese. Luke is watching some children riding horses. A child is feeding the ponies. Luke helps to feed the ponies. There are some baby animals too. There is a piglet and some lambs. Sharon has a camera and takes some photos of the babies. Debra wants to feed the hens. She finds some food and gives a hen some seeds. All the other hens come to eat the seeds too. Joshua runs to the sheep pen. He pats the sheep and gives them some grass from the bag on the side of the pen. A child is helping the farmer to milk the goat. The farmer shows the child how to get the milk into the bucket. The goat isn't happy. It has sharp teeth and nearly bites her. It kicks the bucket with its foot and the milk spills all over the floor and also onto Luke who is standing watching. He thinks this is funny and starts giggling. Sharon hears the noise and takes a photo with her camera. The farmer is laughing too.

The farmer brings the children some milk and cake for helping him. The children sit down in the yard to eat and drink and talk about their day on the farm.

How to play

- Give each student a Lotto Board.
- Cut and shuffle the Lotto Cards.
- Place the cards face down in the middle of the table.
- Each student in turn, turns over a card, and reads it.
- If the card is in the singular, the student with the plural on his/her board says the plural, for example: monkey - monkeys.
- If the card is in the plural, the student with the singular on his/her board says the singular, for example: mice - mouse.
- The student then says a sentence with the word, for example, "I see a monkey at the zoo."
- The student covers his/her board with the card.
- The student who covers his/her board first is the winner.
